

GENEVA PEEPS

LOCAL EGGS FROM LOCAL LOVE

MEMBERSHIP FORM

Geneva Peeps is an egg co-op: residents coming together to cooperatively raise and care for egg-laying chickens in Geneva, New York. An individual or family may volunteer for one shift each week. There are 14 shifts available: one each morning (at dawn) and one each evening (at dusk). Morning shifts are responsible for letting the hens out into the yard, and evening shifts are responsible for putting the hens to bed. All are responsible for keeping them fed, hydrated, safe, and happy. In return, each shift receives 1/14 of the egg production from the previous week (and commensurate affection).
